

We believe that rules are necessary for our programs to be run in a spiritually edifying way. Below are listed some of the major rules in order to maintain a spiritual atmosphere and a safe environment. These rules are not all encompassing but are a reflection of the attitudes and actions we expect from our participants.

- Dress must be modest, if not you will be asked to change.
- No sneaking out.
- Participants are not permitted to operate machinery on campus.
- All incidents (such as accidents or unacceptable behavior) are to be reported to the Director as soon as possible.
- No one is allowed to leave campus without Director's permission.
- No physical contact allowed between boys and girls. Failure to obey this rule will result in punishment or expulsion.
- No foul or suggestive language will be permitted.
- No inappropriate gestures.
- No participant is to be out of his or her designated cabin. Under NO circumstances are boys and girls to be in each other's cabins.

Have you ever had to give up something that you really wanted to keep? God calls us to give up our LIVES for Him! This may sound like a crazy thought but it is true. God has something planned for each of His children's lives and He wants to get to work in your life today if He is not already. Join us at the teen retreat as we discover what it means to give up our lives and begin anew with a commitment to serving Christ by doing anything, going anywhere, and being ready anytime for what He has for us! All For Jesus!
